The case was this: The State county and Taxing-District taxes were levied on the building occupied by the Bank of Commerce, and also on three lots owned by it. The bank filed a bill in chancery claiming (1) that that part of its building not used for banking purposes was exempt, under its charter, from taxation. (2) That the lots of ground assessed to it, which it had sold under deeds of trust to secure money loaned, and which it had bought in at such sale, was

He Will Make Issue With Them About the Number of Triffing Cases They Send Up.

Attorney-General Turner is about to begin a crusade against the magistrates that promises to be of some liveliness. Yesterday an pastor, "You have been working bard and we will give you a holiday," would it be considered picayunish if they told him afterward that they would have to dock his salary for the time he was away? The attention of the Board of School Visitors is court for the payment of costs?" asked the Appeal scribe.
"What I mean is this," said the general continuance of a case to a future day, and FOR SAFE KEEPING the accused is sent to jail, costing $2 for turnkey fees and forty cents a day for board. Finally, the accused is brought to trial, the witnesses in many instances still being absent, and the magistrate, in the honest dis-charge of his official duty, discharges the defendant, and sends his warrant to me to be certified for payment of costs."

"What remedy do you propose?"
"On that point, I confess I am not fully matured; but I think if the magistrates would force parties who decide to swear o warrants to produce the testimony to sustai the accusations as to reasonble probabilit of guilt before the warrant was issued, then MORE VILLAINS
